Leaving emptiness inside
Fate has dimmed your light
All shattered yesterday
There's nothing more to say

You were the keeper of my heart
We are worlds apart
All right, all right...

And I remember I have made you
I have laid my eyes on you
Then desire turned to love
You were always
Giving pleasure
As my treasure,
Yeah, that's true,
Given to me from above

Now farewell, it's all too late
I will carry on my fate

I will, I will...

Always see your shape
Through a painful crape
In loneliness I seem
Just the half of what I've been

You were the keeper of my heart
We are worlds apart
All right, all right...
