Evil walks among us in the guise of man killing to be blessed, the innocent pray and die...

I stick a knife into his head and twist it through his brain I pull it out and extract his eyes father, forgive my sin

To a corpse, I confess, an unholy bestial sin
I killed a priest to be blessed now I must kill again...

My tortured soul will never rest for I am blessed by death I have pledged to myself

the innocent to pray and die

A preonant whore, I come upon, walking home alone at night
I beat her senseless and extract the child, father, forgive my sin...

I fuck the whore's battered corpse and place the fetus in a bag I smile at my handwork and pledge my allegiance to death...
