Distined belly, forlorn eyes coarse hair covers his body he has his mothers greenflies

He is infected, beyond help a pig wrapped tight in human skin
he has his mothers greenflies

A human becomes a pig at birth when the mother fails to bathe it and the piglet rolls in dirt and eats feces and drinks urin because mothers milk is sour... and the pig grows and grows and grows and gives blood to fleas and he smells repulsive and he laughs at the empty lies which are his life his laugh a wounded dogs cry and he has his mothers greenflies...
