I tell myself
vampires do not exist but the woman took me to her world and blessed me with her tongue then I came to my senses and became aware of my surroundings torches cast light upon the many skulls dried viscera adorned the walls and a disemboweled little boy smiled at me and I knew he was food...

the woman and I then laid upon her lords tomb and I was inside her giving the old thing life and her vagina had teeth!

At first there is nothing only the dark, the unknowing
... not even the pain
then my eyes opened and I was aware-aware of my padded surroundings... the woman did not kill me even worse she let me live and I remember all to well HER VAGINA HAD TEETH!
