Hey there, what ya thinking?
What's there inside your head?
Memories are talking
In everything you've said

If you asked I would stay
If we talked would you say Nothing lasts, time goes by
All is lost, my love will die

Hey, what ya doing?
Leaving so soon
I was only dreaming
In the silence of my room

Killing time inbetween
Where you left and he begins
You destroy your happiness
Tell me why you can't forget

Hey there, what ya thinking?
What's there inside your head?
Memories are talking
In everything you've said

Hey, what ya doing?
Leaving so soon
I was only dreaming
In the silence of my room

Hey there, what ya thinking?
What's there inside your head?
Memories are talking
In everything you've said
Shadows dance behind the eyes of the one I love Facing life without you near, is moving closer to the way I feel.

I watch your mouth,

it whispers nothing,
my heart hears every word
My eyes can see the way silently, endlessly.

Your face, I've seen it laugh and cry, now my soul belongs to you and I.
Our lives weren't meant to pass us by,
as one we'd face the rest of life's sweet dreams.

Take my hand and walk awhile with me,
lead me through this broken land.
Your warmth I need to keep me sane, wrap me up and push the ghosts away away...

My life, my love, has gone away
I can't let go, to all our yesterdays...
She said I want it
I need it, here now

She said don't want you
Don't need you, here now

Close your eyes so you'll see no more
(And gravity draws you down)
Lose yourself and you'll be no more
(And gravity weighs you down)

Waiting here 'cause the sun won't shine
(And gravity holds you down)
Holding on for another sign
(And gravity pulls you down)

She said I want it
I need it, here now
