You ought to know by now

Love is the look in my eye

Lovin' the way you smile when I say

"I wish you would stay"

You bring out all the youth in me

I laugh and cry out all the truth in me

Out of love

You should know by now

Haven't you felt by now

Just what it's like to be loved

Knowin' that certain touch when you're sure

Time won't give you more

You bring out all the best in me

I wanna hold you till you feel t he need somehow

You should know

That if I could just find the words

I wouldn't be left so lonely

I'm your one and only

Then I'd show you how

Every move as smooth as silk

Say you will

Baby, say you will
Hasn't it crossed your mind
Haven't you known all this time
Honestly tell me now, has it shown
How much love has grown
The way I tremble at the sight of you
I wanna learn to love you through and through
This I'll beg
You should know by now
You should know by now
You should know by now
You should know I love you
You should know by now
