If you're wondering why I've not been speaking my mind sir
It took so long since I could call this my home
My shapes of confusion fit holes of frustration
And there's nothing worse then being home on your own

You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own

I've been wondering why you've not been speaking your mind sir
I've coloured my life and I'll make no bones
My shapes of confusion fit holes of frustration
You can colour my life until it fits with your own

You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life

You can colour my life

If you're wondering why I've not been speaking my
mind sir
It took so long since I could call this my home
My shapes of confusion fit holes of frustration
You can colour my life until it fits with your own

You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life
Until it fits with your own
You can colour my life
You can colour my life

Colour my life
Colour my life
Colour my life
