Say somethin' shout it from the roof tops off your head
Make it sort of mean somethin' make me understand or I'll forget
The people here on life's beaches
They wish upon the wave that hide the sand
Let them know that life teaches you to build a castle in your hand

Maybe the songs that we sing are wrong
Maybe the dreams that we dream are gone
Bring it on home and it won't be long
Oh it's getting better man

Hey, what was that you said to me?
Just say the word and I'd be free
And where the stars are shinin' bright
We're getting better man
And crashin' in upon a wave
It's callin' out beyond the grave
And we're the fire in the sky
We're getting better man

Build somethin' build a better place and call it home
Even if it means nothin' you'll never-ever feel that you're alone

'Cause maybe the songs that we sing are wrong
Maybe the dreams that we dream are gone
Bring it on home and it won't be long
Oh it's getting better man

Hey, what was that you said to me?
Just say the word and I'd be free?
And we're the fire in the sky
It's getting better man
And crashin' in upon a wave
It's callin' out beyond the grave
And where the stars are shining bright
It's getting better man

It's getting better man
Hey, what was that you said to me?

You told me one day I'd be free?
And where the fire is burning bright
I'm getting better man
And crashin' in upon a wave
It's callin' out beyond the grave
And where the stars shinin' in the sky
We're getting better man

We're getting better man
We're getting better man
We're getting better man
