Shout it from the rooftops that you're here
Even if it means nothing
Make us realize all that we're here
Do it in a wise teaching
Wishing on a wave that soon appears
Something about a life teaches
You to build a castle in the sun

Maybe the songs I sing are wrong
Maybe the dreams I dream are gone
Bring it on home and it won't be long
It's getting better, man
And what was that you said to me?
Just say the word and I'll be free
And while the stars are shining bright
It's getting better, man
And crashing in upon a wave
It's coming up beyond the grave
I'll light a fire in the sky
It's getting better, man

Build something
Build a better place and call it home
Even if it means nothing
You'll never ever feel that you're alone

Maybe the songs I sing are wrong
Maybe the dreams I dream are gone
Bring it on home and it won't be long
It's getting better, man

And what was that you said to me?
Just say the word and I'll be free
And while the stars are shining bright
It's getting better, man
And crashing in upon a wave
It's coming up beyond the grave
I'll light a fire in the sky
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man

And what was that you said to me?

Just say the word and I'll be free
And while the stars are shining bright
It's getting better, man
And crashing in upon a wave
It's coming up beyond the grave
I'll build a fire in the sky
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
It's getting better, man
