

Obsessed "Back To Zero"

The four wall disappeared
And now there's nothing left to hide
The visions and the feelings
Buried way down deep inside.
You thought we'd never find you-
We were always close behind.
We found the key and opened up
The back doors of your mind.
Now you're all alone and you only want
To get Back to Zero - it's alright.
Living on the outside - it's a strange place to be -
Leaving all the fears behind that seemed to follow me.
Sometimes I wonder how they
Dragged me under and then I look up at the sky...
Back to Zero - it's alright. I hope it rains.
I hope it pours - the flood will wash me away
The pain and open all the doors for me.
