And he goes down, now
With his feet up
He goes brown now
In the southern sun

He walks out there
Knows where his friends are
He walks out there
Those have a heart
He go

I wanna break something
Where you go
I wanna break some heads
Down before

All the way down they call
Crack the eggs right open now
Rest your back
Until your safe at home
And it go

I'm a paled [unverified]
I'm in your sleep
I can rest
But I could not sleep

Broken vows
That made it in heaven now
Ironclad promises
That you can't keep
And you go
