She called up
And gave me the news
It made me so sad, sad, sad
There was nothing I could do

She's too far away
And you had to leave
I can never repay you now
For what you gave to me

All those who can blow a chasm wide
It took us all, it took us all
Pushed apart the mountains and the tide
It took us all

She called up
And gave me the news
It made me so sad, sad, sad
There was nothing I could do

I was so lost
In delirious sleep
Wasn't prepared for that position
And maybe I was naive

But truth is a mortal blow
You know all there is to know
The hurt that you have so close
Is something better now
When she called

When she called up
And gave me the news
It made me so sad, sad, sad
There was nothing I could do

She's too far away
And you had to leave
I can never repay you now
For what you gave to me
For what you gave to me

She called up
She called up
She called up
And gave me the news
