So holy romances
I'm bleeding with second chances
From grace like this morning sunshine
So morning grace come fill this place
And steal away all my guilt and shame
Nothing can separate

We are more than conquerors
We are more than conquerors
We are more than conquerors by your grace

To make the devil part in song his lips
Would be to make my seated heart knock against my ribs
So morning grace come fill this place
Steal away all our guilt and shame
Nothing can separate

We are more than conquerors
We are more than conquerors (We are the chosen ones. through weakness you make us strong)
We are more than conquerors by your grace (x2)
