Feel the time
It grows in you, it feeds off you
Burns down dreams
Kills the life that you have left to live
Fear the one
Who offers you inner peace
Hell within you
You come down with blood on your face

Hear, he's closer
Prepare to accept your end
Shadows surround you
Shed a tear for the ones you hold dear

Oh, by my side you walk and smile when people die
Your touch is cold as ice, you kiss the old and bite the young You're Death!

But to bring salvation when your inner thoughts aren't pure
Can make you feel the he's there releasing all your strings
And you try to seek redemption from the pitiful above
Can you be blind to your fate or has your mind now failed?
The reaper smiles once more cause I'll soon be there
Death by my side!

Hell within you
Uncontrolled cause of split desire
Crush a vein
Feel death flow under your skin

But to bring salvation where your life is not lived through
Can make you feel that he's there releasing all your fears

And you try to seek redemption from the pitiful above
Can you be blind to your fate or has your mind now failed?

The reaper smiles once more cause I'll soon be there
Death by my side!

On, by my bed you wake and wait to take my hand Your grip brings emptiness, you free the weak and crush the strong
You're Death!

But to bring salvation when your inner thoughts aren't pure
Can make you feel the he's there releasing all your strings
And you try to seek redemption from the pitiful above
Can you be blind to your fate or has your mind now failed?
The reaper smiles once more cause I'll soon be there
Death by my side!

But to bring salvation where your life is not lived through
Can make you feel that he's there releasing all your fears
And you try to seek redemption from the pitiful above
Can you be blind to your fate or has your mind now
failed?
The reaper smiles once more cause I'll soon be there
Death by my side!
