"Nothing Beyond The Rot"

Kill forced in to death ripped from limb to gutted thoughts from the past Flashing in your mind until you die what then nothing faith is at it's test but Now you've learned that there is nothing beyond the rot many still live by Their blinded faiths how long will there be these fecal minds penitence Injected into spinal chords of the children that these bastards left behind What a great life they must live searching for a master they'll never find Serving themselves upon a platter there's only one existence of one's kind Educate the masses lobotomize the weak this is the only way we can find a peace
