Fuck, kill, release
Shedding everything I loved until I am free
Almost pornographically satisfying scene
A rope pulled tight the dangling feet
It all seems so final
When I play with you this way
It came to life when I was defenseless
(there's no one here scream all you want)
The setting sun reflects the helpless
(there's no one here scream all you want)
I felt so alive today I just had to paint you blue
What if I lost my sanity?
Would I be sick or me or something new?
It all seems so final
When I play with you this way
Now we're alone in this

Now we're alone in bliss
It came to life when I was defenseless
(there's no one here scream all you want)
The setting sun reflects the helpless
(there's no one here scream all you want)
Put the locust in the syringe
Everything's plagiarized
Every urge a sin
My life is a consequence now
My past is better left unspoken
My words leave an empty hole
My spirit is broken
A breach in the walls of paradise may be the last thing we all know
I'll tear every feather from your wings and smell your skin as it goes cold...
