Scars make memories, amongst brothers we'll take on the world

Trapped by our past like life is a choice, these scars mean everything

Amongst brothers we'll take on the world, these scars
mean everything

Trapped by life, we're all set to die now as life is killing us

Suffer times when we were meant for, we are meant for more than this

Crossing our quest for something painful, our bruises are defined

This pain is temporary this pain is something fine

Crossing our quest for some compassion, our bruises
are defined

This pain is temporary, this pain is something fine

You can't break me [x2]

Only death can stop us now, we've fought this all along

You push for something painful, You've deserved it all your life

Feelings in the way, push all of them aside, you search for nothing

Pain is all that we have, trapped by life, we are all set to die now

As life is killing us, suffer times when we were meant for, we are meant for more than this

We will cease our time together, life is a choice, now we pray for something more

Something that we love, these scars mean everything, this life is tedious

These scars mean everything to us, scars make memories [x2]

As we're failing in this life, Pain is something we can

Tragedies were something for us believe

As we're failing in this life, pain is something we can

Tedious were something for us to believe

SCARS MAKE MEMORIES [x2]
