You aim right for the throat, seduction to win the crowd
The taste of nothing but your sorrow trapped again Their forcing in ourselves, We will destroy again, torn from your thrown by the crowd (The tyranny) living lies of desire, your fate is what we've come for The fate of innocence locked down in full submission, you're so left out
In front of the stage of this fright-filled nation trampled & left for dead,
Left for that fright-filled nation so heartless, I've suffered the doubt, I've suffered the final crown
They are coming for me, I'm facing it my own way Destroying the lives of millions, there is no solitude, destroying the lives of millions Stop forcing it, tear down the walls of despair, living life as a pulex,
This will kill the arc, the arc of our new day, I can't fight the hatred in you,
But I'll stand by & watch as you push it, as it tears me down, I can't fight off the tyranny Life is tearing us apart, we are truly set on drowning in something more than this Something so beautiful, so beautiful, I can't regret, tear down these walls, face another hell in you This cage I see, It loves me with torture, cages the failed ones now & lose your ground You've changed the heartless words (so heartless) caged I've hurt for way too long It's time to face the simple pleasures lost in my own face, Craving for something not used with my face down on the floor,
Carve my name in something sacred,
Leave me lifeless, leave me bound & broken, leave me lifeless [x2]
Tossed out & tortured
