I'm not here to waste your time
I wanna see what you've been hiding
In the lie you call a life
You sit alone in your empty apartment
With a phone that isn't ringing
And bad habits on your mind

You see yourself on the television
It put an end to your lonely evening
It's all part of your new direction
To the beginning of the end

This is what you wanted...

Hey! let's get it started!

You aged a couple years
When you changed your favorite song
You did it now that you get it
Always gotta prove it to yourself
You traded all your friends
For a life that you can't lead
You did it now that you get it
On and on you do it all so well
It's what you wanted.

Hey! let's get it started!
