Polly is short but she's standing tall
She thinks of nothing else at all
She's always on her toes
Her cornerstone
Is just a blanket of ash on the ground
And it's all she needs to leave

Lady Marie is all he needs
No one expected her to turn him away
But she knew what she wanted all along

What should he do?

Now we know why we save the best for last
We still want more when we have the best

What should he do?

Polly is short, but she's standing tall
Lady Marie is all he needs.
