

Oh No, Please!

"Save You From Yourself"

Everything I've done was all for you
You're not beyond saving yet
Keep pretending that this is what you want
I can sleep soundly when you sleep smiling
I won't ever stop believing that you made my life worth living
A funeral for every person I have loved
But I won't be the one to bury you
I know that these scarred dried hands
Are all that's left for me to grab
But I will pull you out from under, I will save you from yourself
I'd die happy to know you felt the way I do
But we run in circles, never knowing what to say
I'll save you
I will save you from yourself
