Now it's the last time to remember what you said to me
And I'm the last person in the world I thought I'd be
And now it's high time to be something bigger than we are
It's never too late to reverse a thing that's gone too far

(1st Chorus)

And I think the whole world's laughing at us
But I don't care, that's not the point
There's so much more
There's so much more than meets the eye
Oh, when you're around I'm blind

Now it's the last time to leave the shadows far behind And it's the last time to clear the cobwebs from our mind
And it's the last time to bury all our memories
And it's the last time before everything just fades away

(2nd Chorus)

And I wish that you were here with me
And I wish that somehow things would change
You'd lose your fear of me
And I feel that things might be okay
Oh, wouldn't that be strange

Now it's the last time to reconsider what we've done
And it's the last time to start all over from day one

(Repeat 2nd Chorus)

(Repeat 1st Chorus)
