

Crucified "Cruelty"

Mother of motion, the eyes can't capture time, Falling emotion, the blind now lead the blind, We commit indiscretions, and omit our sins from sight,
In a world of intangibles, too many things seem right

No hand to scribe, the sinking sickness I have seen, No face to judge until you've been the monster I have been,
To hunger is noble, where beauty is silent sleep,
My hunger is noble, but my pain is driven deep.

Cruelty and consequence-cannot eliminate this relevance
Your selfishness, your hatefulness cannot take away
my immanence
Cruelty and consequence-cannot eliminate this
relevance
Your selfishness, your hatefulness cannot take away
my innocence from me

Father of motion, the eyes can't capture time, Falling emotion, the blind now-- the blind now lead the blind,
To hunger is noble, where beauty is silent sleep,
My hunger is noble, but my pain is driven deep.

Cruelty and consequence-cannot eliminate this
Your selfishness, your hatefulness cannot take away
my immanence
Cruelty and consequence-cannot eliminate this
relevance
Your selfishness, your hatefulness cannot take away
my innocence from me
