 censorship is wrong - but only if you censor me.
 I'm open to the truth, accepting of change But not if that means repentance because they're really not the same."

 You've taken my God and attempted to turn Him Into something you know He is not (Place one lie here and another one there and then you've got a God with whom you can find fault)
 But the fact still remains, and the flowers still fade God is true and forever more If you would open your heart and honestly seek He would open your eyes and you would know the truth
