You live in a home
with running water, air conditioner and T.V. you have nothing to give you have nothing to say so you sing-a-ling-a-long everything is alright how can one person change the world? i have to pay my bills i gotta go to work
the earth is dying
i am so ashamed we are all to blame we must raise humane consciousness

i want to be up high up with the sun disappear completely into love i want to be up high up where i can see the secret roads

all you selfish people who think of nothing but money, realize how angry and stressed you are all the time when you're angry you only see things from a bad angle that's why you are going crazy that why you feel like shit you'll never find true happiness in this state of mind

i want to be up high up where i can

what's most important is where we were born, where we grow, where we live without the earth we are extinct instead of finding ways to live on other planets, we have to find a way to live on our own instead of spending so much money on sending space shuttles into space and making weapons for war, why don't we use it for making solar electricity, homes, cars, appliances someone is going to have to give in somebody is going to lose money we can't be greedy we can't be lazy we have to learn to give and help each other and rise about this world we created rise above fear we need to share to save the human race take the human race into a higher vibration
