How many times can I try and
Get it through to you
When all the things I say
It's never been enough for you
And everyday it seems another way
You can put your life on hold again
I've tried so hard to get the best of you
Everything gone and what they say is true
The more you took the less I got
And now it seems I lost the rest,
And the best of you
All I got is all for naught

Are you out there?
Can you hear me
Got a message signed with urgency
I'm a lost soul
Can you help me?
Someone's gotta rescue me

I never even knew where I was really going anyway
Heading for oblivion and scared to say
Are you out there?
Can you hear me?
Can you show me my way?

I guess I should have known
When it was writing on the wall
I guess goodbye should've said it all
I got so tired of giving on everything
You took from me

Are You out there
Can You hear me
Got a message signed with urgency
I'm a lost soul
Can you help me
Can you come and rescue me
