Dear Ensenada, you're not quite how I want you
You don't do what I tell you but you can be with me if you want
All my life
All these words I've collected
They're for lovers who waste no time growing old together
And all these words that I write about the way you look
And how Ensenada I can wait for love
You're maybe too young to understand
Just what's to do and what it takes to get it done love?
You're up and down, you're the rising and setting sun

And you won't let go but you won't hold on
And you won't just leave but you won't belong
And now you're saying what's the story with you and me
Ensenada your mind is a mystery
All my life, all my faith
Soon, soon, soon, soon
I'll see her walking while I'm standing there
She's stopping just to fall in love
All these words that I write about the way you look
And how Ensenada I can wait for love
You're maybe too young to understand
