

Olympos Mons

"Requiem"

Take the small things and cover them up
Keep them from the world that knows you best
One more cut to keep inside
Run away and say goodbye

You?re not the only one (4x)

Write it off, the memory will fade
Leave you grasping an empty box
All you have is the clothes on your back
Life contained in a photograph

You?re not the only one (4x)

Now you can see the sunrise of time
Cresting over the hill of your life
One more glance at your impossible dreams
And abandon all you tried to be

You?re not the only one (4x)

If cold is death then spring is life
Waiting for the warmth that you desire
You want a sign
But what if it?s your heart that lies?

You?re not the only one (4x)
