he waited every day
while the love of his life was gone away he said to himself that when that love returned his life would begin every day he waited for a letter from him until that one day that he received that picture
the most precious moment when he finally got it knowing that his love was thinking of him

Chorus:

The most beautiful love is the one that can wait even if there's no physical vision or attention but love exist even if a good bye will always be long within said
and he knew he loved him even if he never got to say good bye to him he knew it
now he rests with it knowing that the true love of his life was what gave to him a happy ending...

he waited for that call from that one that he loved well it had been a while since he hadn't known anything about him and several months went by and yet there was no sign until by accident he heard it from someone else the accident was so terrible he didn't live to tell at all what had happened is now that he is gone

long and empty were his days now never to hear from his love he waited for such a long time and now he is gone tears of the sorrow

like there is no tomorrow but true was his love and there never will be nobody else no more
no more
no more....
