

Omnious Grief "Demon's Lair"

I don't know what lies beyond my grave
I don't know if I'll ever reach there
Everything have come to an end, met their death
I have buried them in the demon's lair

I have witnessed dark desecrations
Danced the unholy dance
I have been to pre-birth funerals
She'd the mourners' tears

The night dresses in her black shroud
When the sun leaves the earth
Sombre mist pulse above me, I call to you
Now life is meaningless in my dark room

Tears of frozen wickedness
Break into my dreams
All feeling rotten, swallowed by my grave
Nowhere to hide from your screams

The sun seems so pale
All my sight is fading
As your spirit disappears
Avoiding the sight of a dying sunset

Your eyes open wide but you can't see my anymore
You have sailed to heavens shiny shores
I carry what's left of you deep inside
To bury in the demon's liar

I close my eyes and gaze into the past
Through the grey of forgotten times
I see you staring at the dark sky
With dying eyes blacker than nights

If the darkness will resurrect you
I'll no longer lie in this spiked coffin
Awaiting your tomb soil to take me in
Here I drift alone in the demon's lair
