Don't ask any questions
If you don't want the answers
I'm so tired
Of dumbing this down for you
You say that you're sorry
And there's no need to worry
But we both
Know that's just not true

What happened to you
Made you this way

And there you go
Changing on me again
There'll be no late nights like before
I hope you can
Sleep in the bed you've made
I hope your conscience keep you warm

Well I'm breaking down now
And you just don't care
But no one said
That life was fair
You're just so selfish
And oh so unaware
And I guess
I was unprepared

What happened to you
Made you this way

And there you go
Changing on me again
There'll be no late nights like before
I hope you can
Sleep in the bed you've made
I hope your conscience keep you warm

Now I've found out
Where you need to be
And I finally figure out
Who I need to be

And there you go
Changing on me again
There'll be no late nights like before
I hope you can
Sleep in the bed you've made
I hope your conscience keep you warm
