the sun has cracked over the ridge an orb of plasticity waking many to this day, saran rap destinies their filling empty eyes, with manufactured lies they're wrenching forward faceless soldiers for a fifteen minute prize

one day i'll wake up, and see it all crash down the poison has all found the veins, its poison sparing none

the mindless have aligned now, just bullets in a gun they're filling empty eyes, with manufactured lies

and i, have now become, the lie,

chorus

and now i have become the lie
