King of awful majesty
Present in rape and fever
Oh, prince of lies and misguidance
Perverter of pious purity
True inversion of Holy divinity
Fortify the unholy pride of men

The Devil's path lies wide, leading from all around
He will be glorified, yet unspoken
I can see Him as clear as day, but you see Him in words

Present in each crime, each manslaughter
Through ages and ages, Death was our lord!
Each battle, each tyranny, mere reflections of Him
At the breath of The Devil, light flee

We walk our narrow way as millions die!
Aefas!
It has come for us to witness;
Human history brought to an end

The Devil's path lies wide, leading from all around
He will be glorified, yet unspoken
I can see Him as clear as day, but you see Him in words
