It happened once again
You did repeat the same old story
I thought I was a friend
Until we said goodbye
Well, I don't ask of any further explanation
Leave me alone and it'll heal as time goes by
Too many times I ask myself what happened
Yet not a sign to clear my mind, where I go...
Time will find an answer
Time will find an answer
It's back to status quo
I'm on my own
All alone
But I'll be fine some day
I sometimes sit and wonder
Why you're gone, and no one there
How could it go so wrong
From what we used to share
I don't pretend to be the one who understand
There's still a question mark left in an empty hand
Too many times I asked myself what happened
Yet not a sign to clear my mind, where I go...
It's back to status quo
I'm on my own
All alone
But I'll be fine some day
Time will find an answer
