I am walking, walking through the night
While I'm sleeping, sleeping through my life
Too late to stop me
Too late to stop now, cause I'm going down
Why must you always go away
When I'm nearly there
Why must you always be afraid
When I'm nearly there
I want to hold you and keep you in my thinking
Thinking all too much
But I'm trying, trying to keep in touch
Too late to stop me
Too late to stop me now, cause I'm going down
Why must you always go away
When I'm nearly there
Why must you always be afraid
When I'm nearly there
I want to hold you and keep you in my mind
(guitar solo)
Why must you always go away
When I'm nearly there (why must you go)
Why must you always be afraid
When I'm nearly there
I want to hold you and keep you in my mind
Why must you always go away
When I'm nearly there (why must you go)
Why must you always be afraid
When I'm nearly there
I want to hold you and keep you in my mind
