Torn to shreds in agony
Your words pierced me
This is my therapy

You cannot imagine this pain within myself
I drown in shards, my soul is glass
A child shatters and falls to the ground

Just another number to sweep away and forget
I can never forget
I can't forget

You look into my eyes
You see my feelings have changed
My blood has run cold and I feel for you no longer

To me you would be as
The dead would be to me
Dead

Every breath drawn like my last
No savior can slavage my past
As you savior bleeds so do I

As a child you put your pain in me
Your selfishness has left me in ruins
Well, look at you now

This torture suffering
I can't keep it inside of me
Cause it's eating me alive
