Born to die born into the life of a slave breaking our backs for an early grave living a Live of toil and woe then we die, that's how the story goes to know one's place never step Out of line this rule is set in stone never changing throughout time born to die, born into Service wasting our youth, serving no purpose born to die taking it back, what is dictated That i give living my life, not dying to live i'll tear it down, break free of this anchor Turn it around create a life that i will honor i wasn't born just to die i'll savor the Treasures of life while i can i wasn't born just to die we weren't born just to die
