Merit less intoxication straight edge, my liberation i sever all ties from poison and greed Placing distance between me and that wich i don't need proud to be who i am i make this choice For me and no other human i live this way for myself i hold to my own values and no one else's But to be addicted to the edge is to be all that we've fought against to become that what we Most despise vain pride will only lead to our demise don't be as guilty as they of suffering From dependency don't lack compassion when you judge and pass sentence be an asset to positive Change not a menace the ignorant displays of our views only make us as guilty as those who we Accuse it's sad to see so many embrace these ways intolerance only causes pain i stand strong I've built my own edge my pride is firmly planted in solid ground not on a false edge i've seen The way through other's past mistakes i'll keep a clear head in deciding what path it is that I should take all this pious justice is just a faillure's trend unwarranted aggression solves Nothing in the end i'll cast no stones on those who live a different way i'm confident and Secure enough not to fear diversity my interest doesn't lie in what's in your glass i'm only Concerned with what's in your heart what's in your heart are you for real are you cold and Lifeless or do you feel do you have emotion or are you fake do you live your life for you or Is it based on false hate choose drugs free for you be proud but let the others be
