Silence can say so much
Sometimes tears say all there is to say
Since you decided, to go your own way
I can't see what you're up to these days

Coz you've scrapped me off your Facebook
And you've moved on
I can't believe you've changed your number
Now it's certain that I'm gone

I may be deleted from your page
But am I deleted from your heart?
You can't let me go that quick
Deleted by a single click

I've heard that you've got new pictures
They're saying he looks like me?
It goes to show a promise can never be kept Coz you packed your case and left

Then you took a train to London
Just to 'clear your head'
As time moved on, someone else came along
Now I'm gone

I may be deleted from your page
But am I deleted from your heart?
You can't let me go that quick
Deleted by a single click

I thought I worth more than just a one click and everything's gone
I thought I worth more than this, you've proved me wrong
Is a confirmation of 'yes or no' - all it really takes To delete someones heart and tear them apart?

It's so easy, for you to leave me, abandon me and you
But will you keep the text, you always saved or... has it been deleted too?

I may be deleted from your page
But am I deleted from your heart?
You can't let me go that quick
Deleted by a single click...
Am I deleted
Deleted?...
