Friday night and I know I've had a lot to drink,
I'm leaning on the wall, I'm so drunk, I can not think,
Lovers walking home, hand in hand, side by side...

Gain control, take a stroll, find my way back home,
I've lost all my money but I've still got my phone,
Stumble down the road, not sure where I'm at right now...

One step nearer home, or further into town?
Walked these streets before; round and around,
My body's strained, mouth's drained, need somewhere
to lie,
Watch the planes go by in the night sky,

There's no-one here, it's just me in the unknown
Looking at the stars all on my own,
Got a text, I'm a mess, I can't read it right now,
For a while I just wanna lay down...

CHORUS SANG BY LILY ALLEN:

I see you from the sky,
And I wonder how long it'll take me to get home,
I see you from the sky,
And I wonder how long it'll take me to get home

Three hour's past, no-one's seen me
Tried to find me, tried to call me,
Sun is rising, above the trees...

Better make a move, now my head is clear,
Now this drunkenness has disappeared,
Where are my friends, how did they get home?

I struggle to get up to my feet,
Cuts on my back from the concrete,
I rub my eyes and begin to walk down the road
Eyes are slightly blurry,
Speech is somewhat slurred,
But I'm making my way back home...

CHORUS SANG BY LILY ALLEN:

I see you from the sky,
And I wonder how long it'll take me to get home,
I see you from the sky,
And I wonder how long it'll take me to get home.
