Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday - no call
Thursday, Friday - don't wanna know at all Saturday has past, Sunday I get your call...

I was sitting at home, all on my own, when you made your call
Still got our picture, up against the wall
I've tried to apologize, for all the lies
For all the times, one hundred times that I made you cry

Since I let you go
I've not been the same
We all make mistakes but I will fight for you again
Since I set you free
You've been haunting me
We all make mistakes and change the way good things used to be

Here again
In the rain
Tears are in my eyes
No-one knows, that tears flow, fake smile in disguise
Inside I'm weak, outside I'm strong, maybe I'm wrong...

When I see you, I can't even smile, I have to look away
Gotta be brave, walk on by, accept it's my mistake Walked on by, looked behind, you quickly turn your head
Take one last look, turn away, that's all for today...

Since I let you go
I've not been the same
We all make mistakes but I will fight for you again
Since I set you free
You've been haunting me
We all make mistakes and change the way good things
used to be

Since I let you go

I've not been the same
We all make mistakes but I will fight for you again
Since I set you free
You've been haunting me
We all make mistakes and change the way good things
used to be

Since I let you go
I've not been the same
Since I set you free
You've been haunting me
We all make mistakes and change the way good things
used to be...
