Another time I let you down
You say that things aren't quite working out
A change in me is all I need
To make it through my final day so i can see, yeah
Just what I did to you, to make you feel so blue
To make you want to walk so far away from me, yeah

I know it's hard to be like you
With all that shit I put you through
We'll make it just you wait and see
So why dont you come back to me

I know your pain you ask me why
Everytime that I'm with you i make you cry all night
Everything i say and everything i do It's so hard to change myself with all i have to prove but now it's clear to see just what you meant to me
You came along and took away my everything yeah

I know it's hard to be like you
With all that shit i put you through
we'll make it just you wait and see
So why dont you come back to me

So why dont you come back to me?
