

One True Thing

"A little more salt"

Visit "A little more salt" on MotoLyrics.com

Maybe I'm not who I wanted to be
At least I'm somewhere in between it all
A little disappointed, somewhat unenthralled

The world just keeps on turning
Another night unfurls
Stars scatter like cinnamon
And the moon is my crush

Sometimes I feel like I'm farther away
From anyone that even looks like me
A little disenchanted, not who I thought I'd be I've somehow kept my heart awake
I serve it to you, bleeding on this plate
A little more salt, a little less sweet and alot more tar
All this music, it breaks my heart

The world just keeps on turning
Another night unfurls
Stars scatter like cinnamon
And the moon is my crop
I wish on every planet and a place to all my thoughts
Make me who I ought to be Yeah, and make my mother proud

Visit One True Thing page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.