Lost among the fallen angels
Wishing I was somehow able to go
There's no other life I know
In the dark and greasy jungle
Filling up the void of hunger with doubt
It's you I can not live without
Eyes are watching every angle
Twisted in the webs of tangled, I'm stuck
My heart bleeding, I'm all out of luck

I'm going down, I'm sinking low
In these depts, I've never known
This is what happens when I'm all alone
I'm going down, I'm sinking low
In these depts, I've never known
This is what happens when I'm all alone

The night is crawled with kindred fire
Burning down alot desired and kissed
Reminding me of what I'll miss
I swear I'll meet you in the next life
Smiling deep and sharp as knife and I'll carve
Your heart into my lucky charm
And you take all I gave and throw it all away
And I gave and I haven't nothing left to say

I'm going down, I'm sinking low
In these depts, I've never known
This is what happens when I'm all alone
I'm going down, I'm sinking low
In these depts, I've never known
This is what happens when I'm all alone

The world has turned its back on me
The world has spawned its sas on me
This is what happens when I'm all alone with you
The world is turning around on me
The world is burning down on me
This is what happens when I'm
This is what happens

I'm going down, I'm sinking low
In these depts, I've never known
This is what happens when I'm all alone
I'm going down, I'm sinking low
In these depts, I've never known
This is what happens when I'm
This is what happens
This is what happens
This is what happens
