Who's amazing? You are!
You blinded the moon and stole me the stars and
I'm aching to give you all I've got.
So here, don't break it, it's my only heart.
And tonight was the first of many.

And the days stretch out so lazy when you're far away
I feel that it might break me!
I knew it from the start this could be so hard,
What would it be if it were easy?
I knew it from the start this could be so hard,
What would it be if it were easy?
What would it be if it were easy?

Who's amazing? I think it's you.
I thought about it and made my move.
You smiled, you did, and blushed, the sound of my blood rushed and rushed.
Tonight I wish that you could be here...the further that I fall, the more I want you near me.

And the days stretch out so lazy when you're far away
I feel that it might break me!
I knew it from the start this could be so hard,
What would it be if it were easy?
I knew it from the start this could be so hard,
What would it be if it were easy?
I knew it from the start this could be so hard,
What would it be if it was..
What would it be if it was..
What would it be if it were easy.

I haven't felt this good in a million years.
Shake off the dust and cobwebs, wipe away my tears.
'cause it's everything and something more about you,
yeah.
I can't believe I lived this long without you.
