A little disappointed but we try
To put a brave face on it
Your another no-show for tonight
We're getting so used to it

Remember when we drove all night
We sang along to bad songs
And you could all the words wrong
I laughed so hard my lungs burned
So long to everyone we knew here
I'm glad you made it out alive

Hopes are fading fast
That you are coming back
And we know
You are so better off on your own

So if I word it right and take my time
To smile in all the right places
Would it be too much to ask you
To cross your heart and hope to
Well you already know the rest
