You're always almost gettin busted
And whatever you did wrong is something big You're always almost getting branded and thrown out
At least that's how it feels.
You're somewhere between a waste and the best palce
I've ever been
I am breathing underwater
You're somewhere between the lies and the world and bleeding and skin
But I'm learning to balance (,) my love
You're always almost fighting someone You're always almost on to something big You're always almost what you want
At least that's how it feels
You're somewhere between a waste and the best palce
I've ever been
I am breathing underwater
You're somewhere between the lies and the world and
bleeding and skin
But I'm learning to balance (,) my love
