When things get me down these days
I miss you
Seems that you were there for me
When I needed Someone to rely on
And now I find myself alone without you
I didn't have the nerve to say
Or stop you when I had the chance

The day you went away
I should have stopped you just to say
What I feel now oh
So I'll take this time to say
There might be left no other way
I always wanted you to be around

I remember you, even now
I was the fool, I've found out
Is it too late or Can I still be heard
I love you so even now
What could not be said, can somehow
These words that are true,
I hope will be found

We write each other like
Any good friends would
I keep trying to forget but I can't
I can't undo the memory of you

Around this time of year
It hurts me now that you're not here
To hear these words oh
So on this special day
I'll find the nerve enough to say
I didn't want to be the lonely one.

* I remember you, even now
I was the fool, I've found out
Is it too late or
Can I still be heard

 I love you so, even now
What could not be said, can somehow

These words that are true,
I hope will be found

So on this special day
I'll find the nerve enough to say
I always wanted you to be around

*Repeat

Repeat

*Repeat
I remember you, even though
We may be apart now but I know
True love has a way of being refound
