Theres times when i realize that this life has more in store for me more for me oh i can see there is sumthin stoppin me its more than me i see its gravity i try to tell myself its fine but then i just get caught up in that time find myself reverse rewind play it back reverse rewind tell me everythin is ok..fine on these crowded streets no ones down we're just around

there's a war in the middle east && no one even seems to care lately its been too much to bear im tryin to see clear our world's problems that i praised on my fear my fear to even live here im tryin im losin im fading away from all the things i felt so close in the past wishin all of them would last im tired of makin them never ok hoping i will learn someday wat i am is...ok

we're just around
we're just around
we're just around
we're just around
just arrooooooooouuund
we're just around

on these crowded streets
no ones down we're just around [x3]
