I knew you were leaving,
The way you said goodbye.
Along with a feeling, somehow I will survive.
You don't need a reason,
When everything's changed.
I'm lost in the shadows of a dream that we once made.

(CHORUS)

And how do I know it's not too late to try?
And how do you feel, how do I know?
When all that's left in the end,
We're pickin' up the pieces again.

Now loving without you ain't easy to do,
Coz places remind me I'm still in love with you.
Now I've been thinking baby, maybe you can come my way.
But I know tomorrow, there'll be nothing left to say.

(REPEAT CHORUS)

Lonely, burning inside,
Can't you see I'm hiding the pain.
Tell me baby, where did we go wrong?
Tell me we can try again.

(CHORUS)

But how do I know it's not too late to try?
And how do you feel, how will I know?
When all that's left in the end,
Two lovers parting as friends,
We're pickin' up the pieces again.
